FOREWORD

Back in St. Moritz for its 13th edition this winter, NOMAD brings together some of the world's most influential players in the fields of contemporary art and design to propel a multifaceted and invigorating program through the walls of former Hotel Eden. With a robust line-up of gallery presentations, talks, and commissions with creatives, curators, and brands regarded as visionaries in their field, NOMAD offers a unique, curated experience that underscores its dedication to the expertly vetted.

The former Hotel Eden raw site offers visitors unique situations to see gallery line-ups that are ever-expanding in their exclusive variety, geographical richness, and sense of wonder. Once again established galleries and cutting-edge creatives from around the world converge to work with the ideas of flux and transformation, constructing a unique ambiance, writing a new narrative, and creating a poetry of space.

This edition includes an extraordinary selection of presentations by 25 galleries and 9 special projects. The latter includes a special exhibition developed by Cabana—both an exhibitor and an official media partner for NOMAD St. Moritz 2024. Cabana conceives custom print and digital content that pays tribute to the collaboration. Sharing a passion for design, the arts, and travel, Cabana and NOMAD speak a language that overlaps and intersects: one that seeks to explore the very personal relationships between art, architecture, design, and culture resonating with collectors, cultural institutions, and creatives alike.

Another highlight at this edition is the special collaboration with esteemed architect Giuliano dell’Uva, who has drawn inspiration from the Engadine to design both the NOMAD welcome area and the NOMAD Stüva restaurant, located inside the former Hotel Eden venue. Dell’Uva is known for his highly distinctive style which focuses on the specificity of place, tradition, and context, and we are delighted to have him on board at this edition.

NOMAD'S SUSTAINABLE MISSION

From the very beginning NOMAD has put forward a visionary, cutting-edge mission and promoted practices that combine tradition with contemporary aesthetics. In keeping with this mission, NOMAD has always valorized traditional craftsmanship, “perhaps the most tangible manifestation of cultural heritage” according to UNESCO, and approaches in art and design that are respectful of the environment, providing a counterpoint to mass-production or harmful and extractivist uses of resources. The mastering of craftsmanship, the continuation and creative revival of age-old traditions and know-how, are all integral to safeguarding the planet and creating a more sustainable future. In short, art, design, and architecture can play a significant role, leaving a positive footprint.
